

Press / Cut Delivery

In a time where at the push of a sync button you can call yourself a Disc Jockey, Bowser and Seniorr joined forces in spring 2015 to launch Cut Delivery which focuses solely on true craftsmanship with turntables.

Cut Delivery mixes hip-hop, funk and futuristic sounds in a unique and innovative way. In their videos, the two DJs from the Swiss capital Bern compose their own tracks with samples, drum machines and vinyl utilising the turntables as an instrument.

Cut Delivery performances have gained the attention of world-renowned blogs such as BPM Supreme, DJCity, Digital DJ Tips and DJ Tech Tools. Cut Delivery is ambassador and co-developer of the DJ records backpack by manufacturer PinqPonq. They also receive support from cutting edge DJ tech companies such as Rane and Serato.

The Cut Delivery concept offers organisers a unique DJ live performance factor. This is what Bowser and Seniorr demonstrate at roughly 90 club shows per year at renowned locations such as Zurich's most infamous hole in the wall Gonzo Club where they have a Residency or at major festivals in Switzerland and international locations such as Badehaus Berlin and Sidefunk Club Barcelona.
